Overview:

Overall, the Super Soaker Monster XL makes a very intimidating, awe-inspiring extra heavy cannon. Its size will send most people running and its firing chamber will soak anyone who remains. The main drawbacks to this weapon are its sheer weight and the number of pumps required to pressurize both firing chambers. Thankfully, pumping is easy and the fact that one is holding the largest single-piece Super Soaker available justifies the sacrifice in maneuverability. One thing to note is that while the amount of water dispensed is great, the range of the Monster XL feels somewhat lacking, meaning that one will have to be a little closer to do true saturations. Though not recommended for extended missions, the Monster XL makes a great base defense/heavy offensive weapon.
